Good morning, Katie.

I received a call yesterday from the director of the State Subdivision Control Department who said that they are shutting their department down for the next two weeks. He suggested that if I have any final plats ready to be sent in, it might be wise to hold off on mailing them for a week or two since no one will be there to receive it. The longer something moves around in the state mail system, the more likely it is to be misplaced (lost).

So what I am asking is that Spring Grove Farms No. 5 goes to the plat board today for approval as planned. Once approved, I'd like you to hold onto it until I contact you later next week for mailing instructions. Basically holding off until after the inauguration, to see what the fallout in Lansing is, if any.

Please let me know if the plat is approved by the Plat Board today, and if holding off on mailing it to the state will work out okay.

Thanks!

Jim Swanson, P.S.
